Frequently Asked Questions

Everything you need to practice with confidence

YOUR GUIDED COMPANION · FACEYOGUEZ

A little clarity goes a long way. Here are the questions we hear most — answered gently, so you can show up for your practice with ease.

1

How long should I practice every day?

Aim for 15–20 minutes daily for the best results. If you're short on time, even 10 minutes is beneficial. Consistency matters more than doing long sessions occasionally.

2

When will I start seeing results?

Everyone progresses differently, but most clients notice:

- 1–2 weeks
Reduced puffiness, better circulation, and a fresher appearance.
- 3–6 weeks
Improved muscle awareness, posture, facial definition, and skin glow.
- 8–12 weeks
More noticeable improvements in facial tone, symmetry, and overall appearance with consistent practice.

Results depend on consistency, sleep, hydration, nutrition, stress, posture, breathing, and overall health.

3

What if I miss a day?

Don't worry! Simply continue with the next scheduled session. Avoid trying to "make up" by doubling your practice — a consistent routine is more effective than occasional long sessions.

4

How much pressure should I use?

Use light to moderate pressure unless instructed otherwise.

- You should never feel sharp pain.
- A gentle stretch or mild muscle fatigue is normal.
- If your skin becomes irritated or painful, reduce the pressure.

Remember: better technique is more important than stronger pressure.

5

Is soreness normal?

Mild muscle fatigue or slight tenderness can occur, especially during the first few weeks.

STOP & SEEK GUIDANCE IF YOU EXPERIENCE

- Sharp pain
- Persistent headaches
- Increased jaw pain
- Significant swelling
- Tingling or numbness

6

Can face yoga create wrinkles or stretch the skin?

When performed correctly, no. At FaceYoguez we emphasize controlled movement, proper support of the skin, and balanced muscle activation.

PLEASE AVOID

- Pulling the skin aggressively
- Rushing through exercises
- Using excessive force

Technique always comes before intensity.

7

Should I do the routine before or after skincare?

Before skincare. Wash your face first if practicing at night, and work on clean skin. Apply a small amount of facial oil or slip product for the session.

Skincare is applied after your practice — be sure to wash the oil off properly once you finish.

8

Can I practice if I have Botox, fillers, TMJ, braces, or recent dental work?

In many cases, yes — but with modifications. Please let us know if you have:

TELL US ABOUT

- Botox or fillers
- TMJ or jaw pain
- Braces or aligners
- Recent dental treatment
- Facial surgery
- Active skin infection or inflammation

We'll guide you on appropriate modifications. If you have a medical concern, always follow the advice of your healthcare provider.

9

Why do we work on posture, breathing, neck, and tongue posture?

The face doesn't work in isolation. Your posture, neck position, breathing pattern, jaw function, and tongue posture all influence:

- Facial muscle balance
- Puffiness
- Jawline appearance
- Neck tension
- Facial symmetry
- Long-term results

That's why, at FaceYoguez, we take a whole-body approach rather than focusing only on the face.

10

How do I know if I'm doing the exercises correctly?

Signs you're doing them correctly:

- You feel the intended muscles working.
- You can breathe comfortably.
- Your shoulders stay relaxed.
- You don't compensate with unnecessary facial tension.

If you're unsure, text us — we're glad to help.

11

Which routine should I do today?

Follow the weekly schedule provided inside your program. Each session is designed to build on the previous one, so avoid randomly selecting routines.

12

I have a headache after practice. What should I do?

Reduce the intensity and check your posture and breathing. Headaches may occur if:

- You're clenching your jaw.
- You're holding your breath.
- You're using too much force.
- Your neck muscles are compensating.

If headaches continue, pause and contact us.

13

One side of my face feels tighter or weaker. Is that normal?

Yes. Most people naturally have asymmetries due to posture, chewing habits, sleeping position, previous injuries, or muscle dominance. Our goal is improved balance — not perfect symmetry.

14

Can I combine FaceYoguez with gym, yoga, Pilates, or other workouts?

Absolutely. In fact, regular exercise, strength training, yoga, walking, and good posture complement your facial practice and may enhance overall results.

15

Can I practice if I have acne or sensitive skin?

Yes, but avoid working directly over inflamed or painful areas. Use gentle pressure and avoid irritating products. If you have an active skin condition and you're unsure, consult your dermatologist.

16

Should I breathe through my nose?

Yes. Whenever possible, breathe gently through your nose during exercises. Nasal breathing helps reduce unnecessary tension and supports good posture and overall breathing mechanics.

17

How should I take progress photos?

This part shouldn't be skipped if you're sincere about your transformation — a ton of progress and feedback from your own body is missed otherwise.

TAKE PHOTOS

- Every 2–4 weeks
- In natural lighting
- Without makeup, if possible
- With the same hairstyle
- From the front, left profile, and right profile

Consistency makes progress easier to see.

18

What lifestyle habits improve results?

Your results improve when you:

- Sleep 7–9 hours.
- Stay hydrated.
- Eat a balanced diet.
- Manage stress.
- Maintain good posture.
- Breathe through your nose whenever possible.
- Practice consistently.

FaceYoguez works best as part of a healthy lifestyle.
